

I Miss You

Clay Edwards

Key of C
63 BPM in 4/4

For the sunrise does prophesy of my Beloved's return
And while the night remains, I will prophesy of my Beloved's return

I want to sing along as creation groans The only song it now knows
"I miss You"

I'm longing for the day when I'll see Your face We'll fellowship in time and space

I want to hasten the day When You come back to stay

I miss You I miss You
I miss You Won't You come home again

You said it'd be better then if You leave
Then You could come live in me — what sweet communion

Yet the Spirit within me, still it groans
For somehow together we know there's more to the story

So together we sing

Return, return

When my faith becomes reality
And You're standing next to me, I'll sing, "I love You"
